AMUSEMENT TO-NIGHT.
HERRIG'S CAFE—"GYPSY BAZAR."

Rain has fallen in the Atlantic Coast and Gulf States, also in the West, where a number of stations have reported from the Atlantic Coast States and Texas; elsewhere it is generally fair. Colder weather prevails in the North, the change at Marquette being 20 deg.

Forecast for Missouri: Slightly cooler; fair weather; northwesterly winds.

Forecast for St. Louis for thirty-six hours from 8 a.m. to day: Generally fair to-day and to-morrow; cooler.

It is easy now to follow that sage axiom: "Neither a borrower nor a lender be." The borrower finds it especially easy.

THE WORLD speaks of Gov. Waite's "impaired thinking apparatus." How is it possible for a non-existent thing to be impaired?

THE American Congressman is a full patriot up to the point of paying his own mileage for extra sessions. Just there, however, he draws the line.

In New England, at least, there should never be any distress. Somebody who has made the count affirms that the female codfish lays 40,000,000 eggs in a single season.

It is strange that grocers and druggists who complain of the humiliation of running licensed dramshops never thought of the humiliation of running unlicensed dramshops.

If Ex-Senator Ingalls loved the truth as well as he loves a telling antithesis he could now be a power in politics. As it is even Jerry Simpson can look down on him with contempt mingled with pity.

THE Louisville man who had $12.50 in bank and withdrew it to put it in a safe deposit drawer, costing him $5, should be cautioned not to go into any mad speculation with his $7.50 as soon as the stringency is over.

THE Chicago Record calls upon other cities to boom the Fair by getting up World's Fair excursions. Let it call on the railroads. They can get up World's Fair excursions at any time by offering low enough rates.

THE experiment of feeding Texas beans to the horse of the German cavalry will no doubt redound to the glory of the Empire; American hay and American beans will in a short time render the most inefficient cavalry invincible.

THE owner of a single mine in Alaska expects to get a hundred millions of gold from it, there may be a good deal in the other Alaskan mines. These Alaskan people should be warned not to precipitate an auriferous glut.

REVOLUTIONS in Spanish America come and go so often that it is not possible to keep track of them. Hot blooded people cannot enjoy the blessings of liberty except after a long discipline of alternating anarchy and despotism.

"THE bank is perfectly solvent and depositors are safe," was posted on each of the Minnesota banks that closed their doors yesterday. Business must simply wait until the present stringency has had time to get tired of itself.

THE only reason that the Republican financial policy, as explained and advocated by Mr. Charles Foster of Ohio, did not ruin the country, as it has ruined him, is that the people ordered a change before all their resources were exhausted.

JERRY SIMPSON is suffering from the stringency owing to the refusal of the Treasury to pay him mileage. But back of this is his extravagant habits contracted during a summer spent in the effete and luxurious East. Jerry should spend his winters with the home folks.

MR. BALFOUR, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Salisbury Government, is very emphatic in his advocacy of blightism. There is a very strong current of public sentiment in England against the present policy which men like Balfour are quick to recognize and entertain.

As gold is coming back in considerable quantities the necessity of the bond issue proposed by ex-Senator Henderson and others is not apparent. A heavy burden is on those who would increase the public debt to prove such a course would contribute to the prosperity of the people.

WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR is pitching into Grand Old Man Gladstone for not being a true Englishman. If there is an Englishman in London who wants to be a real Englishman he will have to watch Mr. Astor, whose studies in New York have peculiarly fitted him for a model of all that is Anglican.

THERE is a point beyond which an infringement of personal liberty by statute will not be tolerated by Anglo-Saxons. This point seems to have been passed by the Government of South Carolina, where espionage and inquisitorial impudence are relied upon to enable the authorities to enforce the law.

PROSPERITY by act of Congress is the dream of a lunatic. Only by sound business methods, adopted and steadily pursued by the business community, can good times be assured. The most that Congress can do is to facilitate the operation of such methods by removing the legal restrictions which hamper them.

THE present distress is world-wide and cannot therefore be attributed wholly to a single local law. Absurd and irrational revenue systems established in the interest of a class and a too daring spirit of enterprise are at the bottom of the trouble. Public and private reforms are imperatively necessary before the business community can recover its health.

GAG RULES.
There were no points in the proceedings of the billion-dollar Congress upon which the Democrats more squarely joined issue with the Republicans than the adoption and tyrannical enforcement of the Reed gag rules. Democratic members denounced these rules on the floor of the House, on the stump and through the press as an outrageous abuse of the power of the majority and an indefensible violation of the right of free debate in legislative assemblies. Nearly every Democratic convention held after the rules were adopted denounced them as oppressive and subversive of the principles of free government.

It was through the enforcement of these rules by Czar Reed that the worst plutocratic measures were railroaded through the House, the McKinley bill, the force bill and all the extravagances of riotous power which disgraced the Reed reign. It was largely through a refusal of the Senate to adopt similar rules that the force bill, which cherished mainstay of plutocracy, was defeated in the Senate. The Democratic majority in the last Congress repudiated the Reed rules.

The suggestion, therefore, that the rules be changed to expedite relief legislation must be received with extreme caution.

The line between legitimate discussion and illegitimate delay for filibustering purposes is difficult of delineation. It cannot safely be drawn by arbitrary rules.

The Kentuckian served his country well at New Orleans. In the late civil war he fought long and well on both sides. He is still the same unflinching patriot, determined to serve his country. The new Collector at Louisville has the cards of more than 5,000 applicants for places under him. The Collector himself is something of a hero too, for it is now said that, "like a lion at bay, Collector Johnson has at last turned upon his pursuers."

EZETA of Salvador hopes to make himself dictator of the whole of Central America. The Central American mind, however, is exceedingly changeable. Mr. Ezeta will scarcely be settled in his new job when he will have to show his coat-tails to an infuriated populace. If Central American and South American leaders could only be taught to fling ambition, the rest they would get out of the change might really fit them for ruling.

OBSTRUCTION is always a nuisance and sometimes very hurtful, but it should not be forgotten that Congress is a deliberative assembly. The new rules should not be tainted with the corrupt despotic features which characterized those adopted by the Reed-McKinley Congress. The House is a legislative body provided for the purpose of giving free voice to all shades of opinion.

THE stringency, after all, may be a providential scheme to mitigate religious denominational friction and unite mankind in one great church. In Clark County, Kan., to save expense, the people will receive the gospel from one preacher, the ablest of all the preachers, who will teach all doctrinal topics. The other preachers will be discharged and preaching will become much cheaper. There is economy in union and union in economy. It appears, with the additional benefit of better preaching for everybody.

It is a little remarkable that a learned Boston journal, after showing the inadequacy of seersucker and other garments intended to cool in summer, should recommend suits of Russian hemp. Hemp suits are undoubtedly good, but why should they be of Russian hemp? The Kentucky counsel has been for years wearing cool summer suits of American hemp. It would never enter his head to send over the sea and pay freight for what he has at home.

THE Washington Star credits the leeman with deriving from selling as glass imitations. No long, however, as glass costs more than ice, and does not melt, there is neither fear nor profit in it for the leeman. So long as these conditions hold the virtue of the leeman may be considered impracticable.

His Highness Jagat Singh Alwala Rajah Rajagan has a weakness for claims, which he does not find in Chicago. As he cannot readily transfer his love from claims to hams, his stay at the Fair may not be as prolonged as the management had hoped.

People who live up stairs in Chicago can get no water except at night, when they do not want it. Perhaps this lack of demand at night may arise from the fact that after sun-down the average Chicagoan is out looking for deer.

This depository, established by Gov. Tillman, is an affront to every liberty-loving citizen of South Carolina—no matter whether they support the State Dispensary scheme or not. The majority ordered this piece of folly placed upon the statute books, but few of them will approve of tyrannical measures to sustain it. The despotic majority is of all despots most feared, and in America arbitrary measures have always been taken as a sign of vice or weakness in the law itself. If it is really wanted by the people it will not automatically and, as it were, execute itself. In case of this sort the majority soon conclude that there is something right and rational in an opposition so strong and de-terminated, and usually either repeals the obnoxious statute or allows it to become a dead letter.

This is the experience of Maine, Iowa and Kansas where sumptuary laws have been tried and found wanting. South Carolina in repeating their blunders and will have to learn the same lesson, for South Carolinians will not violate the principles of personal liberty for the sake of an experiment condemned as cranky and impracticable by so many of their own number.

(No matter written on both sides of the sheet can appear under this head.—ED.)

The St. Louis Bank Situation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

That the present stringency has affected the St. Louis banks to a very large extent we must admit. The statements of the National Banks, called for by the Comptroller of the Currency at the close of business July 12, published in our great dailies, are to the people that they might ascertain the solidity of their deposits, commented upon by the investors, spoken of themselves as the great depression.

A comparison of the statements of each and every bank with that of the St. Louis, future commented upon, is enough to show that brilliant as far as our country is, the panic is sick, and Congress is not the one doctor, but four or five others, are half as good as the Sherman bill.

Smith is ill and says to the people that he is.

As soon as the doctor comes Mr. Smith will begin to get better, and soon will be entirely recovered.

A foolish conclusion, of course. The doctor must first examine Smith and decide upon the character of the disease, then upon the remedy.

KILLED THE CREW.

Fate of a Recruiting Vessel Off the Coast of Malaya.

DECROY IN SHORE AND SEIZED BY THE TREACHEROUS NATIVES.

All on Board Murdered, the Ship Looted and Then Burned to the Water's Edge.

The Diabolical Crime of a Negro Husband-General Criminal News of the Day.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 5.—Advices by an Australian steamer state a report has reached Sydney that a Queensland "labor" vessel, while engaged in recruiting off the coast of Malaya, Solomon Islands, was attacked and seized by the natives. The white crew was killed and the vessel first looted and then set fire to and burned to the water's edge. The first intimation of the affair was brought to Noumea by the "labor" vessel, Lady St. Aubyn, which had fallen into company with another vessel that had natives on board who were aware of the circumstances. The plan adopted by the chief at Malaya was to decoy the vessel to certain places on the coast or pretense of supplying a number of recruits. This was done after he had obtained the services of a number of natives on the vessel at the rendezvous she was surrounded by armed canoes and her crew quickly dispatched by the combined forces of natives afloat and those already taken aboard.

THE ARMSTRONGS IN JAIL.

TROY, N. Y., Aug. 5.—James E. Armstrong, the defaulter Treasurer, is now in jail here with his son Cal, charged with the double crime of stealing the County's funds and attempting to liberate his son. Watson Pitts and Joe Preissler, the young men who were arrested, charged with being implicated in the attempt at jail delivery, made a confession last night which shows that the treasurer himself was the masterminded instigator of the attempt to release his son. Experts are now at work on the case and it is expected to be in worse shape than at first supposed. Mort Armstrong, the younger son, who left town a few days before the experts had not been apprehended, is thought to have been in the South. The stealings of all three of them will probably foot up $50,000. The treasurer is said to have been arrested as he has had a finger in the pie.

KILLED A DANGEROUS LUNATIC.

CASPER, Wyo., Aug. 5.—A man who said his name was David K. Kans had three shots at a sheepherder, who returned the fire and killed him. Kans was crazy and believed he had been commissioned by God to own the country and kill two more men. He had no fire to several men and the sheepherder was the only one he could not kill. The sheepherder sent a word to the Sheriff that he had killed a man and that the body would be found over in the gulch.

DEPUTY MARSHAL KILLED.

NOWELL, I. T., Aug. 5.—At the annual celebration by the freedmen of the Cherokee Nation, now in progress at Gooseneck Bend, John Naun, a colored Deputy United States Marshal, struck Leo Singleton, a farmer living near the head of the river, with a pistol and was killed. John, who had been shot in the head, died yesterday and the managers denied all knowledge of Anderson. Farmer was killed and the old man will be buried to-day to prevent his being buried with the negroes.

THE HENDERSON MYSTERY.

GALVESTON, III., Aug. 5.—The return of a circus to town here has caused an investigation in a supposed murder case. About a year ago a young man named Henderson was employed by Asa Farmer, a farmer living near the head of the river, and he disappeared suddenly and Farmer stated that he had gone with Cook &amp; Whitney's circus. Since then Farmer has not been seen and the circus came back yesterday and the managers denied all knowledge of Anderson. Farmer was killed and the old man will be buried to-day to prevent his being buried with the negroes.

RESULT OF WALKER'S LYING.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 5.—The Grand-Jury returned several indictments against the participants in the recent lynching of the Walker. Sheriff A. J. McLean was indicted negligent in the discharge of his duty. J. A. Perkins and Police Capt. Geo. T. O'Hare were reported as having failed and refused to do their duty in this case and Capt. O'Hare was also charged with failure to do their duty. There is a good deal of talk over the report.

FRESH DURHUS FARDONED.

TOPKA, Kan., Aug. 5.—Gov. Lewelling has pardoned Frank Durhus, the wealthy joint-keeper, who fled from Topka some years ago, leaving fines and forfeitures amounting to $10,000 and the money claims of the State against him, and the pardon only relieves him of a jail sentence. A condition of the pardon is he shall not live in Kansas.

TWO SEPARATE CRIMES.

KNOKOMA, Mo., Aug. 5.—Wm. Boyer and Rufus Holt were sentenced to life imprisonment in the Penitentiary for forgery by the Cooke County Court yesterday. From the evidence produced in open court the crimes are the greatest in the line of forgery ever committed in the State, coming as they were with the brutal murder of old man Boyer, the father of Wash. They are now held for murder, and one of not both will probably hang.

POISON IN THE WELL.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Aug. 5.—Aaron Sampson (colored), 19 years old, is under arrest here, charged with putting Paris green in the well of Mrs. Mary Hoffman of New Brunswick, who was stricken with the whole family. He admitted he had put poison in the well, and said he had tried to poison the family because he had been ill treated.

LAWYER'S SUDDENLY.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 5.—William Chase left town in great haste yesterday for Beloit. He was found to be correspondent for a disreputable Chicago paper which had attacked some of Rockford's most prominent citizens. Chase was offered a position, but he was offered by half a dozen people for the arrest of the correspondent.

A DIABOLICAL CRIME.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 5.—Henry Arnold, colored, got drunk with his wife, Fannie, and after she was asleep he got an iron bar and crushed her head in. Then he piled the bed clothes over her and then he went to sleep. And after setting fire to the whole mass, made his escape.

BRADSHAW'S MURDERS.

QUINCY, Ill., Aug. 5.—The fourteen men confined in the Adams County Jail for the shooting of Solomon P. Bradshaw, had their hearing on wire. The negro, John Moore, who shot at the Bradshaw's, fired a fatal bullet, and an attempt was made to show that Bradshaw fired the first shot.

EDITOR FATALLY WOUNDED.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 5.—Editor W. J. Allen of the Interstate News was shot and fatally wounded by Judge Johnshuk of Bowie County, Tex., on account of some criticisms in Allen's paper.

OFFICE BURGLARIZED.

ST. JACOB, Ill., Aug. 5.—The F. M. B. A. elevator office was burglarized last night, but aside from a pocket-book containing some valuable old coins, nothing was taken.

CAMERON UNDER BOND.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 5.—The preliminary trial of Malcolm Cameron for killing Dr. Geo. A. Gundlach at Cameron's house was held, and Cameron put under $10,000 bond.

CRIMINAL REVIEWS.

ROTTING LOCATED.—John B. Koestling, cashier of the South Side Savings Bank, Milwaukee, Wis., has been located at Denver, Colo.

CAUGHT IN THE ATTEMPT.—Thomas Gray and Henry Davis tried to cut their way out of jail at Little Rock, Ark., but were caught in the attempt.

HOT GUILT OF MANGALOURAS.—The jury in the Holt murder case at Morganfield, Ky., found Holt guilty of murder, and sentenced him to life imprisonment in the State Penitentiary, to Bowring Green.—Joe Smith was taken from Calumet, Mo., to Bowring Green for safe keeping. He was charged with criminal assault upon Martha Rodine, a girl of 14 years.

ARRESTED FOR KIDNAPING.—Mrs. Elizabeth Hollins was arrested at Fort Scott, Kan., for kidnapping the two children she did it at the instance of the father.

AT THE PARSON DOOR.—George Gerr was arrested at Topeka, Kan., on a charge in the penitentiary for forgery. The new charge is having killed his 3-year-old child and attempting to kill him with a pistol.

ONE DISMISSED.

The defendant in the Pike adultery case, which was to be tried at Sedalia, Mo., was dismissed by Justice Blair upon a review of the evidence.

ONE BROUGHT BY ALBERT BROWN.

ALBERT BROWN.

A GRAND DISPLAY.

Splendid Parade of the Bombardment of Fort Sumter.

A splendid parade was given by the "Bombardment of Fort Sumter" company last night, at 8 o'clock the procession started from Sportsman's Park and proceeded on the Natural Bridge road to Grand Avenue, along Grand Avenue to Olive street, on Olive street to Sixth street; on Sixth street to Chestnut street, on Chestnut to Elm street, on Elm street to Broadway, on Broadway to Grand Avenue, then to Sportsman's Park. From six large floats a shower of bombs and rockets were sent up. At Twenty-first and Olive, the Branch, G. W. Drummund Guards, the Walsh and Busch Zouaves and the Italian Cavalry joined the parade. The spectators were attracted by the pyrotechnic effects.

The representation of the bombardment of Fort Sumter will be given at Sportsman's Park to-night.

ANOTHER RESPITE.

The Condemed Choctaws May Now Live Till Sept. 4.

WILBURTON, I. T., Aug. 5.—The nine Choctaw Indians who were sentenced to be shot July 7 for the murder of several members of the Jones faction and who were reprieved by Gov. Jones until Aug. 4 have been granted a further reprieve of one month. It is believed that should the United States Government insist upon the pardon of the prisoners Gov. Jones will consent, especially if such a course would not interfere with the trial of the men.

THE ARMSTRONGS.

The Armstrongs were reprieved by Gov. Jones until Aug. 4, and the men were to be tried in October.

HOLMAN ON THE EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 5.—Congressman Holman of Indiana looks upon the coming session of Congress as likely to be the most important in the history of the country. Great changes, he says, are sure to be made in the tariff, as well as in the financial laws. These changes, he believes, are bound to come.

On the financial question he declined to state his position before consulting his colleagues, merely saying that he was in full agreement with the majority.

In regard to the tariff he thought that the McKinley bill would be thoroughly overhauled, and something like the Dingley bill would be adopted.

A number of interesting cases came up for trial in the extra session, but the most important was that of Michael Kelly, charged with breaking into the mouth of the River Des Peres last Tuesday and the man who was brought into court.

WHEN MEN ARE PAST 40.

"Active Recreation" of the Sort Recommended Here Would Kill Many.

From the Hospital.

Were walking exercise, although it is fatiguing, hardly fulfills the idea of perfect recreation. Sir James Paget says "good, active recreations" ought to include "unpleasanties, wonders and opportunities for the exercise of skill in something different from the regular work." The present writer is always looking for cricket in the summer and football in the winter in the garden. One day, wishing to test the animal's power of endurance, he gave it a twenty minutes' walk, which were all burrowed one after another in special hiding places. The next day the dog was given the same walk, but was unable to dig up the old ones. Without any hesitation he uncovered ten and then came to a stop.

After a walk of running about as fit as in a race, the dog, which was active in a separate place in the garden. One day, wishing to test the animal's power of endurance, he gave it a twenty minutes' walk, which were all burrowed one after another in special hiding places. The next day the dog was given the same walk, but was unable to dig up the old ones. Without any hesitation he uncovered ten and then came to a stop.

The doctor had dog, which was active in a separate place in the garden. One day, wishing to test the animal's power of endurance, he gave it a twenty minutes' walk, which were all burrowed one after another in special hiding places. The next day the dog was given the same walk, but was unable to dig up the old ones. Without any hesitation he uncovered ten and then came to a stop.

After a walk of running about as fit as in a race, the dog, which was active in a separate place in the garden. One day, wishing to test the animal's power of endurance, he gave it a twenty minutes' walk, which were all burrowed one after another in special hiding places. The next day the dog was given the same walk, but was unable to dig up the old ones. Without any hesitation he uncovered ten and then came to a stop.

Then there was a second period of walking, probably, to get rid of the seven remaining bones found with some difficulty.

The doctor concluded from this that the number six was too large a number for the dog to take all at once, and then he had been obliged to remember the bones it was in a series of seven.

The dog, however, was not able to count as far as ten, but it could count its cat's pieces of meat the doctor would put it under that animal's nose and then withdraw it five times in a row, and then it would know that it would give the cat the most. This number was repeated every day until the cat grew perfectly accustomed to walking five pieces of meat.

Having thus demonstrated that pussy was not able to count, the doctor would put it under the animal's nose and then withdraw it five times in a row, and then it would know that it would give the cat the most. This number was repeated every day until the cat grew perfectly accustomed to walking five pieces of meat.

Not less interesting were similar experiments with horses. In the village of Pekoe the doctor found a pony's head which he had been unable to get along with, and acquired the habit of counting the hours and stopped to rest regularly at the twentieth hour. Every time the pony was out of the stable, the doctor would count the number of his horse's calculations, and at the end of the day he used to estimate the amount of work done, not by counting the number of hours, but by the number of the times his horse had stopped to rest.

In another village the doctor found a horse which was able to count the miles posts along the way, and which had been trained by its master to stop for feed whenever they had stopped to count the miles posts. The doctor had the horse over a road where three false mile posts had been put up in between the real ones, and sure enough the horse, despite the fact that it had been trained to stop at the end of twenty-two versts instead of going the usual twenty-five.

The experiment was made of driving twice the horse at the wrong time, whereupon the horse started for his oats, in spite of the fact that it had been trained to stop before.

This shows that a little knowledge may be a bad thing for horses as well as men.

A SURPRISED SULTAN.

Hermann, the Magician, Gives Him a Start With a Bit of Fine Work.

From the North American Review.

"While on board the Sultan's yacht," writes Hermann, "I noticed that he had a magnificent watch, which he consulted and handled as if it were the apple of his eye. It took a combination to produce this effect of 'native beauty,' and the blending in this case was most harmonious. The young man was most harmonious, and his countenance was as graceful as a sapling maple, mounted on a blooded bay thoroughbred, with limbs as keen and swift as a hawk in flight. He was the very picture of the West. He came down one of the shady avenues of elms and water maples, that are called streets at Kentucky, and it was a picture of health and happiness, and, indeed, before an old-time mansion, dismounted and ran laughing in leaving his horse, and, as he did so, I saw him mount again to return. I watched the pink face, golden hair and handsome riding habit until they disappeared with the whoo-who of the horse. His bride was as delicate as a silken cord and on his back was a flat, Englishman's saddle with a high cantle, and, when the young girl came bounding out of the gate and mounted, evidently pleased at the hearty admiration of a stranger.

"I do you manage to stick on that saddle?" I asked.

"Oh, it's the easiest thing in the world," she said, "and I am sure that you will like it. I always liked a man's saddle best," and bounding lightly to the horse's back in another instant the scene was out of sight.

"Come on, the Sultan! We will see what we like to read about," thought I, and as I turned away I had a feelingakin to sorrow over the loss of the Sultan's saddle. The experiment was made of driving twice the horse at the wrong time, whereupon the horse started for his oats, in spite of the fact that it had been trained to stop before.

This shows that a little knowledge may be a bad thing for horses as well as men.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

When They Are On Horseback Every Kentuckian Is Proud of Them.

I was in Frankfort the other day and saw a sight that was enough to make any ordinary case of sore eyes and to make the blood of a Kentuckian dance through his veins like champagne and his eyes sparkle like the "moonstone." It took a combination to produce this effect of "native beauty," and the blending in this case was most harmonious, and his countenance was as graceful as a sapling maple, mounted on a blooded bay thoroughbred, with limbs as keen and swift as a hawk in flight. He was the very picture of the West. BACK TO HIS CAGE.

A CRAZY HUMORIST TEMPTED TO RETURN TO THE ASYLUM.

From the Westford Standard.

He would be noticed in a throng—High forehead, stalwart in form, with a highly intellectual look and a commanding presence that people would be naturally drawn to. He was welcomed to the sanctum because he wished to see the editor and proprietor "on business." He saw the editor to the following effect:

"I have just graduated from college and have determined, after mature deliberation, to eschew the ordinary professions (law, physics and the ministry) because I realize that the field is pretty well covered. I believe that there is to be no future for me in any of these, but my present position is not a bad one. I am a fair, clear-voiced wit, and is no limit to my creative ability. I can pen a graph with short stories on any topic, create characters and portray them as saying or doing things that are not true. I can paint a lot, string out stories and poems by the yard without the least strain. Why my talent in painting is not more fully developed, I do not know, but I have a thousand on paper by my engaging in humorous writing for the press. I am fairly boggling over all of these with rich, clear voices and wit, and is no limit to my creative ability. Why my talent in painting is not more fully developed, I do not know, but I have a thousand on paper by my engaging in humorous writing for the press. I am fairly boggling over all of these with rich, clear voices and wit, and is no limit to my creative ability. I can pen a graph with short stories on any topic, create characters and portray them as saying or doing things that are not true. I can paint a lot, string out stories and poems by the yard without the least strain.
